Are errors the key?

If you judge by who is currently in the top seven spots (i.e. Revelation) avoiding errors may be the key to performing well this year. Of course, that is always somewhat true, but several things seem more obvious this year:

1. The top four quizzers all have single-digit error totals. The next 25 have double digit totals. Gabrielle Weir (in 30th) throws the numbers off but only because she missed a month – otherwise her average of 640 would have her in second place.
2. Making every verse a quote had one clear effect – quotes are no longer a guaranteed 20 points. I have watched quizzers who never used to miss a quote stumble on them this year.
3. The only cure is near-perfect or perfect knowledge of your material. I never thought I'd say this, but for nationals this year, it might be better for you to take less material if it means you know it better.
4. Of course, if you try to reduce errors by jumping slower, you will simply score less often, so the most critical key is to make no knowledge errors.

Nationals registration due in January quiz

Although I still can't tell you the exact cost for nationals, I can tell you that for quizzers it appears the longer bus ride will add about $25, so the total will be $425. This, as usual, includes Iowa, Regionals and Nationals, including the extra night's stay in the hotel Saturday night at Nationals.

In order to be ready to pick our coaches in January, I need to know the number of people going to Nationals. Therefore, the registration fee of $100 is due at the January quiz. As usual, if you fail to qualify for a team, that money will be refunded. If you decide not to go for any reason, that registration fee is non-refundable. The registration forms will be attached to this email as a separate document. I hope to have nationals information sheets emailed out before Christmas.

TFC events:

January 15-16 Conference on Christian Evidences III(COCE).

Adult Quizzing Chapters

Adult quizzing locally will be in this month, over 1 Corinthians 15 and Titus. The national hosts have elected not to have an adult quiz at nationals.
